...plans to turn its old house on Trafalgar Road (formerly the 'man-house') into a youth café.

The vision is to have a safe space for youth, where they can connect with friends and youth workers over pizza and a smoothie. Young people aged 12-18 will be able to access advice and support. It is planned to develop a program to deal with issues faced by young people, especially issues affecting young women. The project will be youth-led and become a hub where young people can express themselves through art and music and find real conversation.
